Military Reforms

As you may know, America's military preparedness has declined in recent years, while falling behind China in recruitment and technological advancements. With this in mind, please tell me whether you agree or disagree with the following statement: We need an immediate overhaul of military leadership, including removing many of the generals and admirals who have wasted billions of taxpayer dollars on diversity, equity, and inclusion programs. Instead, our focus should be on recruiting, retaining, and promoting soldiers, sailors, marines, and airmen based solely on their ability to meet or exceed the standards necessary to ensure that we remain the strongest and most capable military force in the world.
